LBC To Get Record Christmas Club Checks

By LEE CARL
Courier and Times Staff Writer

The greatest amount of Christmas spending in the history of Lower Bucks County is predicted this year as over $1,650,000 is being distributed to Christmas Club savers by local banks.

With 31 shopping days left, Lower Bucks banks have sent or are preparing to send a record number of checks to their Christmas clubbers.

Bank presidents and officials, with few exceptions, proclaim record figures. The Philadelphia National Bank, previously the Delaware Valley Bank, announced a figure of $679,429.50—a milestone in the bank's history.

This record figure is the total club saving at the company's five Lower Bucks branches—Bristol, Levittown (Shopping Center), Levittown (Midway Shopping), Yardley, and Southampton. Checks are being mailed to 7,583 depositors today.

Fidelity-Philadelphia Trust Company, which mailed its checks yesterday, came up with the record figure of $214,765.50. The trust company, previously known as Farmers National Bank, had a Christmas Club membership of 2,300.

The high figures bring predictions of new highs in buying at the Levittown Shopping Center and other Lower Bucks business districts.

Already Christmas merchandise is lining the shelves and counters in Levittown, the Mill street district of Bristol, Morrisville Shopping Center and the Bridge street area, Southampton, Feasterville and Newtown business districts and others.

The People's National Bank and Trust Company, with offices in Langhorne and Pennel, distributed about $200,000 in Christmas Club saving this week. Bank officials call it an all-time high. Club membership reached 2,450.

Also claiming a record was the First National Bank and Trust Company of Newtown with its 1,514 club membership. This year's figure is $188,963.31.

Morrisville Bank savers, whose checks will be available beginning Wednesday, number about 2,300. Approximately $265,000 will be distributed.

The 790 persons who saved under the Christmas-club program at the Newtown Bank and Trust Company are receiving a total of $105,650.

Christmas greens and colorful decorations are going up in the buying areas to attract this huge group of spenders and the thousands of other shoppers who don't use the Christmas-club system for their saving.

Buying-wise, it promises to be the biggest Christmas ever!

The Weather

Cloudy, windy and mild with showers late this morning and this afternoon. Turning colder this afternoon with highest today near 70. Partly cloudy and much colder tonight and tomorrow with low temperatures to-night ranging from 32-38.

Croydon Man Helps Nab Killer Suspect

Robert Foss Finds Would-Be-Suicide Who Is Wanted By Police

The chance discovery by a Croydon man led to the arrest yesterday of a 21-year-old ex-Marine for the robbery slaying of an elderly West Philadelphia realtor.

Robert Foss, 25, of 1403 Spencer circle, Croydon Acres, found the suspect, Edward H. Maddox, half dead and covered with blood in an empty office in a factory building at Westmoreland street and Frankford avenue, Philadelphia.

Foss, not knowing who the man was called police and told them a man needed medical attention. When police arrived they recognized him.

Kadar Offers To Withdraw Soviet Troops

VIENNA — UP — Hungary's Soviet-sponsored Premier Janos Kadar reportedly offered ultimate withdrawal of Soviet troops from the country and formation of a coalition government in sweeping new concessions to anti-Red insurgents today.

But the defiant rebel groups continued their general strike and insisted it would remain in effect until all Soviet troops actually are withdrawn.

At the same time, the government-controlled radio Budapest broadcast Yugoslav President Tito's charge that the Russians were responsible for the Hungarian revolution. In a speech delivered Sunday and released yesterday, Tito said the Russians promised to pull their troops out of Hungary as soon as order has been restored.

These moves by the Kadar regime apparently were still more desperate efforts to win some of

Fire-Routed Family Seeks Place To Live

Bristol Fire Chief Continues Probe Of $150,000 Blaze

While Bristol Fire Chief Clifford Hagerman continued his probe in the cause of Bristol's $150,000 fire today, a displaced family of five was still searching a place to live.

Following the Wednesday night blaze, that drove six families from their homes, and demolished a warehouse stocked with materials and products of Kemline, Inc., workmen and residents of the Lincoln avenue area began pushing down loose stones of the remains.

The four families on New Brook street, behind the warehouse, were permitted to move back into the buildings they had quickly evacuated, and helped each other move back in. For the most part, the damage they suffered resulted from the hasty moving.

Still seeking new quarters are the two Puerto Rican families whose Lincoln avenue apartments next to the warehouse were ruined by the blaze.

Fire Marshal Raymond Strunk came down from Quakertown to examine the ruins with Chief Hagerman yesterday, but the two said they will have to wait until the site has been cleared of debris before completing their investigation.

Possible Causes

Tentatively listed as possible causes were a backfiring truck, defective wiring and a discarded cigarette. Mr. Strunk noted that there was no machinery operating in the warehouse, however.

The demolished building is littered with charred and burned Kemline charcoal grills and grill parts, clothes dryers, toy cash registers and cartons. Stephen P. Midouhas, president of the Kemline firm, the world's largest manufacturer of charcoal grills and outdoor dryers, said several industrial firms have offered their facilities for Kemline to use in the emergency.

With officials of the Lower Bucks County Chapter, American Red Cross, Mr. Midouhas made an immediate effort to find housing and help for the burned out families. After the fire, the two Puerto Rican families spent the night in the Delaware House, while the New Brook street resi-

Medallion Honors Enlistment Efforts Of Late Merchant

The late Louis Dries, well-known Bristol businessman and civic leader, was honored at a meeting last night of the Lower Bucks County Chapter of the American Jewish Congress.

A medallion, commemorating Mr. Dries' achievement of securing more members in the Jewish Congress in the metropolitan Philadelphia area during the 1954-55 season, was presented to his wife.

More Than 50

During that time, he secured more than 50 members for the organization, more than any other individual.

The presentation was made by Maxwell J. Klinger, president of the Philadelphia Council, which is composed of 33 chapters in the area.

The Lower Bucks Chapter also donated $30 to the Levittown Public Library for the establishment of a shelf of Jewish literature honoring Mr. Dries.

Subscriptions to books published by the Jewish Publication Society were presented to the Levittown Jewish Center, Temple Shalom, and the Bristol Jewish Center.

Attendance

Also present at the meeting, in Temple Shalom, Edgely road, Levittown, were Mr. Dries' two

Indian Summer To End Tonight

Indian summer should bow out gracefully by tonight, the Weather Bureau at Trenton indicated today.

Today's prediction is for increasing cloudiness, mild and windy weather with scattered showers. The mild temperatures could come close to the 1928 record of 70 for this day.

The weatherman sees gradual clearing late this afternoon with the thermometer starting to dip by dark. Tonight's low will be in the 30's.

LCA Asks Study On Incorporation

The incorporation study committee of the Levittown Civic Association, in attempting to spearhead a new incorporation drive, will circulate petitions requesting a study be made by an independent group.

At a meeting recently, the committee declared, "Our aim is to have the four municipalities comprising Levittown, request an impartial survey by an independent organization such as the Institute of State and Local Government of the University of Pennsylvania.

Determine Feasibility

"The purpose is to determine the feasibility or desirability of uniting the municipalities in some consolidated form of government."

"The study should consider, among other aspects, the type of government, proposed boundaries, and necessary state legislative action necessary to bring it into being."

Past efforts of incorporation were reviewed for benefit of the newer members of the committee.

Committee Members

The committee, headed by John Zwers, 48 Spindletree rd., Snowball Gate, Levittown, will report at the regular monthly meeting of the LCA which

UN Secretary Opens Talks With Nasser

Diplomatic Stalemate Threatens Another Round Of Mideast War

LONDON — UP — UN Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold arrived today in Egypt for talks with President Gamal Abdel Nasser on the worsening diplomatic stalemate that threatens another round of the Mideast war.

Hammarskjold flew to the Abu Suweir Air Field near Ismailia in the Suez Canal Zone with 50 Colombian reinforcements for the first contingent of the UN police force. Another flight of 50 Norwegians boosted to 192 the number of police on hand.

The secretary general inspected the first police units before continuing on to Cairo and his talks with Nasser. It was understood he planned to send for 24 signalmen immediately to speed up communications in the Middle East.

Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, head of the new UN police force, arrived in New York almost at the same time as Hammarskjold arrived in the Middle East. Burns was conferring with UN delegations in hopes of pinning down the as yet uncertain duties of his police force.

Conference In Italy

Burns and Hammarskjold had conferred in Italy.

Hammarskjold was faced with the difficulty of reconciling the Egyptian demand for immediate withdrawal of Anglo-French troops and the equally firm insistence of the Allies that they stay until peace returns.

Both sides appeared to be hardening their positions.

A Cairo dispatch said Egypt was still demanding the immediate withdrawal of Anglo-French troops and would refuse to discuss any other phase of the Mideast crisis until they leave the Suez area.

Britain and France were reported

L'town United Fund Drive Tops $3500

Levittowners have topped $3500 in response to the residential drive for the Bucks County United Fund campaign. Mrs. W. David Price, Levittown chairman announced today.

The new total is $3521.88 with a few neighborhoods still to be tallied.

Indian Creek

Fraternity brothers and pledges of Sigma Alpha Rho, Delta Theta Chapter, under their president, Jerry Plavin, collected $98.42 in a one-day drive in the Indian Creek section, Mrs. Price said.

Four sections have just turned in their reports. They are, with their captains:

Orangeview, Mrs. Nancy Opperman, 40 Old Pond road, $31.80; Lower Magnolia Hill, south of Malow lane, Mrs. R. W. McCalla, 12 Mockorange lane, $81.85; Red Rose Gate, Mrs. William Calvert, 52 Rockwood road, $158; south North Park, Mrs. W. A. Davis, 114 North Turn lane, $51.45.

New Totals

New totals were announced from two sections:

Snowball Gate, Mrs. Mark C. Newman, 57 Sweetgum road, $666.30; Birch Valley, Mrs. Henry Dux, 46 Burning Bush lane, $146.47.

Vandals

Thieves and all information relating to the crime has been turned over to the Middletown police department.

"It is known that the police are pursuing an investigation and expect to come up with some leads soon."

The Levitt firm said it will cooperate with the police in every way to apprehend the vandals. It and when apprehended, according to a spokesman, the company will use all legal means to punish the culprits and obtain damages.

Morrisville OKs 2 Zone Changes

The Morrisville Board of Adjustment approved two exceptions to the zoning code and disapproved a third request last night at a public hearing attended by about 25 persons.

Approved were a request from Adrejs Sprukets to erect a home at 500 Prospect avenue, and a request from Lawrence W. and Rbth H. Bryant to convert a one-family home into a two-family home at 500 Crown street.

Disapproved was a request from William Woodward to erect a greenhouse at the rear of 115 Althea avenue. About 16 persons appeared at the hearing against the request, bringing with them a petition from residents in the area protesting the move. Of the 97 names on the petition, only seven approved of the greenhouse.

Suspect Waives Grand Jury Action

Robert W. Rich, 7 Garden lane, Levittown, yesterday waived grand jury action on a burglary charge and was held for a criminal court trial on Thursday, Nov. 29.

Rich, accused of taking 18 bottles of liquor from Hillside tavern, Edgely, was scheduled to go before the grand jury for formal indictment (or dismissal of charges) on burglary, larceny and receiving stolen goods.

He is represented by Attorney Thomas Resp, Levittown.

Falls Appeals Assessments

Falls Township School Board and the Board of Supervisors today filed appeals on the 1957 assessments on the Fairless Steel plant, Fairless Hills Shopping Center and Bowling Alley, and Thriftmart.

The appeals were filed in Bucks County Common Pleas Court by Attorney T. Sidney Caddwallader, representing the school board, and Attorney William F. Beefer, representing the supervisors.

A joint appeal was filed on the Fairless Steel assessment and the school board filed appeals on the shopping center and Thriftmart.

In September the Bucks County Board of Assessment and Revision of Taxes dismissed preliminary appeals by the township boards.

Judge Edwin H. Satterthwaite said the court would fix a hearing date later, and might include a hearing on the 1956 appeals by the school board and supervisors which are still pending.

Attorney's for both sides were agreeable to a hearing in April, the earliest date available for the appeals.

3 Drivers Get $200 Fines

Three men were fined a total of $600 in Bucks County Criminal Court yesterday after they pleaded guilty to drunken driving charges in Lower Bucks County.

Fined $200 each were David T. Hess, Lincoln highway, Langhorne RD 1; Frederick W. Higgins, 105 Blue Spruce lane, Birch Valley, Levittown, and Joseph Tarasek, Wilkes Barre, who rooms in Bristol.

All were ordered to pay costs of prosecution.

2 Sentenced In Ten Area Burglaries

zier while the two were living in the trailer.

Mozier has no previous criminal record, but Roupe has been arrested for parole violation, escape, car theft and transferring a stolen auto across state lines, for which he received four years from Federal authorities.

Chief Shook testified there was no evidence Mozier was directly involved in the burglaries, but Mozier admitted accepting stolen money, food and clothing from Roupe.

They were arrested Aug. 25, days after Roupe's car was spotted parked near a burglarized gasoline station.

Mozier said he moved in with his grandmother in Philadelphia on Aug. 16, and Roupe reportedly took a room in a Philadelphia hotel on June 17.

Roupe pleaded guilty yesterday to robbing a combined grocery store and Calso service station at Route 413 and Ford road, Bristol township, on Aug. 8 of approximately $1600 in food, merchandise and tools, his biggest haul.

He denied burglarizing the station on June 19.

Garage Burglary

In Middletown township, Roupe burgled Flad's garage, Willard Goddard's grocery store, Anthony Alvino's restaurant on Route 1, a service station and an attempted burglary at Nesaminy Service Station.

State police of the Fairless Hills barracks investigated burglaries by Roupe of the Davenport Garage and a restaurant in Langhorne, both on Aug. 20.

In Falls township, Roupe admitted burglarizing Buckley's hardware store, Newportville - Fallsington road, on Aug. 13 of about $400. He confessed to taking money from Falls Building Materials Company, Fallsington, on Aug. 20.

Both men were employed at Fairless Steel plant and moved into the trailer after they became acquainted at the plant. Roupe quit there on June 22 and started his string of burglaries in late July and August, after he lost a job at Falls Building Materials Co.

He told Judge Satterthwaite yesterday that he committed the burglaries because he was behind in payments on his trailer and needed money.

Mozier testified that he first suspected Roupe of thefts when the latter came into the trailer about 2 a.m. one day with baskets of food. He gave no explanation as to why he didn't report the burglaries.

Badenhausen Has Strike On Pact

Badenhausen Corp. in Cornwells Heights had its main gate blocked this morning by workers who walked out over a contract dispute.

A union spokesman said the contract expires at midnight today. "We'll have something definite to say on the situation after that."

Workers loitered at the entrance sipping coffee and appeared to be waiting for further instructions. No pickets were in sight, but plant operations were further hindered by workers in other unions who refused to cross the strike line.

Company officials of the plant, which is on State road, refused to make any statement.

Seeing Levittown

By JIM ORT

The first signs of the closeness of the festive Yuletide season appeared today in the shopping center with workmen attaching Christmas trees to the light standards in the parking lot.

The Levittown players are asking Levittowners to search utility rooms, attics, etc., for racing forms, scratch pads, and other betting forms dating back to 1935. They aren't going to start a bookie joint, though. These items will be used in their next production, "Three Men on a Horse." If you locate any, call Mrs. Millie Otto at WI 5-4955.

Shortly, books from the Library of Congress in Washington will appear of the shelves of the Levittown Public Library. Mary Bretschneider, 59 Pond lane, Pinewood, head librarian, and members of the book committee will head for Washington on Tuesday to pick up surplus books from the Congressional Library.

Interment will be in the George Washington Memorial Park, Whitmarsh, Pa.

Fairless Local Asks Study

Local 4889 United Steel Workers Union, employees of the Fairless Steel plant, last night voted to request its internal executive board to reconsider the recent $2 per month dues increase.

About 500 workers were present at the meeting, at the Holy Trinity Parish Hall, Morrisville.

Meanwhile rank and file steelworkers protesting a $2 per month dues increase picked a slate of candidates last night to oppose the top officers of the United Steelworkers in elections next February.

They chose Don Rarick, chairman of the Dues Protest Committee, to oppose USW president David J. McDonald for the top post. Rarick is a member of Local 2227, Irvin Works, U. S. Steel Corp.

It would be the first time that opposition developed in election for the union presidency.

Edward Revak, of Local 1256, Duquesne Works, U. S. Steel, was endorsed to oppose Howard R. Hague for vice president, and William A. Klug, of Milwaukee, Wis. was named to oppose I.W. Abel for secretary - treasurer.

Historic Fallsington Board Named

Mrs. Charles Harper Smith, Hatboro, Mr. A. S. Hines, Philadelphia, General William S. Johnson, Lawrenceville, N. J., and E. B. Speer, Fairless Hills, were elected Trustees of Historic Fallsington, Inc., at the annual meeting last night.

The non profit corporation is dedicated to the restoration of the colonial village where William Penn worshiped.

Officers

Mrs. Ann Hawkes Hutton was re-elected president, Mrs. Robert Biddle, 3rd, vice-president, Mrs. Eugene Robertson, corresponding secretary, Miss Olive Smith, recording secretary and Warren Woodruff, treasurer.

The following Trustees were re-elected:

Mrs. Hugh B. Eastburn, Philadelphia. Mrs. William D. Lynch, Davisville. Mrs. William Mercer, Doylestown. Mrs. Irene E. Row, Fallsington. Mr. Franklin Wood, Langhorne. Mr. Irving Warner, Jr., Yardley, and Mr. Anthony Burton, Newtown.

Candle Light Christmas

Plans were made for Historic Fallsington's second candle light Christmas on Meeting House Square.

Dr. Richard H. Howland, president of the National Trust for Historic preservation spoke on the acceleration in historic preservation in this country.

He commented on the exceptionally good state of preservation of the houses in Fallsington and the excellent possibilities of developing this colonial village into a unique historical area of the Delaware Valley.

nized Maddox as the suspect they were looking for.

Foss an employee of the Pennsylvania Papyrus Company, which occupies the building, had gone into the office for some equipment when he discovered Maddox, who had been hiding from police for two days.

Critical

Philadelphia police took Maddox to the Northeastern Hospital where his condition was described as "almost critical" from loss of blood.

Police re-arrested Maddox had slashed his wrist in a suicide attempt. In addition they said he swallowed "almost a box of rat poison" in another attempt to end his life.

Detectives said Maddox signed a statement, while being treated at the hospital, admitting he shot to death Joseph Langman, 75, and pistol whipped Langman's wife, Elizabeth, also 75, on Nov. 8.

The slayer escaped with $60. Maddox told police he did it because he needed money to pay his rent.

He said he had been in the factory for 48 hours before he was discovered. On the floor in the office where he was found was a note to his wife written on a piece of cardboard. Maddox scrawled with his blood, "Ruby, I love you. Forgive me. Eddie."

20 L'town Delegates Discuss Board Plan

A resolution calling for community wide participation in the selection of Bristol Township school board candidates was passed last night at an organizational meeting of a committee to establish a non-political school board.

Over 20 persons, representatives of PTAs and Womens Clubs in Levittown, attended the meeting in the Emerson school, Mill Creek road. The committee is sponsored by the Levittown Civic association.

Dr. Leonard Friedman, chairman, appointed a committee to set standards for the ideal school board member with established democratic principles. He noted,

"Our action has no reflection on the school board. We feel since there will be two openings next year, we would like to nominate a people who will conform to the standards that will be set up."

The next meeting was set for Dec. 13.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Olivero, their two children and her sister are now staying at the home of Ammon Hollinger, elementary education director of the Bristol borough schools, while looking for permanent quarters. The Red Cross was notified that one of her family, Mr. and Mrs. Luciano Medina, had found a place to stay last night but did not know if they were permanently housed.

The two families have lived side-by-side about two years. Both men are employed by the National Container Corp. The Red Cross is helping in their search for a new place to live.

The Lincoln avenue apartments were partially furnished. The families returned yesterday and salvaged clothing and personal effects. Mrs. Janet Benedict, home service director of the Red Cross, personally visited all the affected families yesterday, and was in constant contact with Walter Pitzonka, Jr., home service chairman for Bristol.

The idea of the PTA just to get this project started and we needed the approval of the school board. It will be something everybody could have and use," she said.

The first step she said would be to acquire a field and fence, and then lights for night events. "After we got this we could start work on the stadium," she added.

She pointed out that the site and final plans for the project would have to be approved by the school board. Also she said the school board now has plenty of land available behind the high school, on Route 413.

CD, Fire Company To Set Siren Plan

Officials of the Tullytown Civil Defense Council and the Fire Company on Saturday will try to correct the problem of their respective siren signals sounding alike.

CD Director Ulrich A. Frank said the "Take Cover" signal is similar to the fire alarm. It is a three-minute warbling sound, which in an air raid indicates that a bomb drop is imminent.

The alert signal, a three-minute steady sound, signifies that enemy aircraft has been sighted. Mr. Frank said that connections are being made for two sirens to sound alarms simultaneously. A siren has been installed atop the Meenan service station on Levittown parkway, and is being wired to connect with the fire house siren on Fallsington avenue.

20-Room Unit Planned On Green Lane

Bristol Township School Board last night assigned architects to draw plans for a new 1200-pupil junior high school and a 20-room elementary school.

The state Department of Public Instruction has given the township approval to go ahead with the two schools which should be completed by September 1958.

Morrisville Architects

Mickiewright and Mountford, of Morrisville, was selected to prepare plans for the junior high school to be constructed in the Croydon-Maple Shade area. No definite site has been purchased for the school yet. The board is considering several sites.

Plans for the elementary school will be drawn by Joseph Wigmore, Philadelphia architect. It will be built on the Booz tract on Green lane near Mill Creek road, Levittown. Officials hope to keep construction costs around $750,000.

These are the first two of four additional schools planned by the school board. A senior high school is proposed to be built on the Booz tract next to the planned elementary school.

Fourth School

The fourth school would be an elementary building erected either on the 10-acre Black tract at Plumbridge section of Levittown or near the Thomas Jefferson school.

At the same time it was announced that work has started on the 28-room James Buchanan school in Levittown and the 34-room addition to the Maple Shade school. Henry Decker, administrative assistant, reported concrete for the foundations would probably be poured next week.

Recreation Board Post

In other business Mrs. Patricia Gannon was named to the Recreation Board to complete the term of Ralph Hart who resigned last month. Mrs. Gannon accepted the new post tentatively.

Ralph Kasman, 5 Darkleaf lane, Levittown, was named to the school building authority. Kasman, who is also chairman of the township planning commission, succeeds Mrs. Ann Hawkes Hutton whose term expires Dec. 1.

Kasman's term is for five years.

Marvin Polikoff, local representative of Bristol Terrace Homes Inc., offered to purchase equipment for a playground at Bristol Terrace 1.

Dr. Guy F. Eberhart, superintendent of schools, was instructed to meet with Mr. Polikoff and work out the details of the offer.

The board approved of the transfer of some cafeteria equipment to the George Clymer school, Newportville. Mr. Decker said this would enable the cafeteria in the school to open shortly.

Two residents requested the board to pay their tuition fees in English classes in a Trenton school. The residents are studying to become citizens of the United States. The request was turned over to Dr. Eberhart who will study the situation.

Edgely Strip Set For Mail Delivery

Mail delivery to the Edgely Strip business area will begin either Monday or Tuesday of next week, Lawrence Mulligan, Bristol Postmaster, announced this morning.

The area includes stores on Route 13, between Beaver Dam road and Haines road.

He also noted, regular first class home delivery service was instituted in the Cobalt Ridge section of Levittown on Wednesday.

Mailmen are now serving 566 houses in the section. When fully occupied, the area will comprise 1950 homes.
